FINAL ATTACK SPECTACULAR

Citizen Soldiery at Fort Washington Clean Rifles and Take Steps to Break Camp.

Special From a Staff Correspondent by The Star's Dispatch Boat Fairbanks. FORT WASHINGTON, Md., August 8 .over. Today is being devoted to the preliminaries for breaking camp tomorrow the requirements the time had almost arrived for the paymasters to begin distlement for services rendered. The army paymaster, Capt. C. E. N. Howard, had for Washington and at the armories. allotted to him funds sufficient to pay purse had been emptied Maj. William S. Hodges, acting paymaster, D. C. militia, proceeded with the payment out of funds provided by another appropriation. Maj. Hodges was assisted by Capt. Boyd Taylor. The paymasters brought the money from Washington this morning aboard the U. S. S. Oneida, they being accompanied by an armed guard. About $20,000 was The guardsmen this afternoon are busy cleaning and oiling rifles, doing what they can in the way of packing and otherwise getting ready for breaking camp early tomorrow morning, in accordance with the orders heretofore published.

Battery on the Road.

The 1st Battery, Field Artillery, which departed from Fort Hunt this afternoon with the ambulance and the Signal Corps wagon, is to camp near Alexandria tonight. The battery is ordered to reach Washington at or before 9 o'clock tomor-Washington at or before 9 o'clock tomor-row morning, carrying a cooked noonday and contents of bundles. These bundles meal. The batterymen are to remain at will be turned over to battalion quarterthe armory tomorrow until the guns, harness and the entire equipment are cleaned and placed in proper condition for storing until the resumption of drills next Octo-

The brigade band is to give its final concert of the encampment, beginning at 7 o'clock this evening, on the lawn near the headquarters of the 1st and 2d Regiments. A program of special excellence has been prepared by Director MacLeod. The usual concert by the band preceded the land and naval attack last evening. The principal social event this evening will be the reception and dance at the manor house, arranged by Gen. Harries and staff in honor of the regular officers on duty here, members of their families and house guests. The affair is announced for 9 o'clock. The brigade band orchestra will furnish music.

Brigade Rifle Team Departs.

The members of the brigade rifle team were excused from camp this morning. They departed for Washington aboard the Cushing at 8 o'clock with their baggage and equipment. Maj. Alfred P. Robbins. inspector general District of Columbia Militia, team captain, was in charge. A large number of fellow soldiers were at the wharf to say farewell to the team members and express hope for success in the competitions.

The brigade team will depart from Washington at 9:10 o'clock this evening and is scheduled to reach the Ohio range at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Lieut. Col. William H. Coffin, commander of the artillery district of the Potomec, and Mrs. Coffin entertained at dinner last evening, the guests being Col. Urell, commanding the 2d Regiment, and Col. Ourand, commanding the 1st Regiment, and the officers of their staffs.

Receive Call to Arms. The climax of the exercises occurred

late last night in the form of a naval attack. Theoretically, a large fleet of warships of the enemy, moving against the National capital, was sunk. Only the companies assigned as coast artillery reserves figured in the exercises, the supports not being called out.

Heavy rain for several hours yesterday afternoon resulted in a radical change in the program. It rendered the ground along the river shore so muddy and the woods and other growth so soaking wet that Col. Coffin decided it would be unwise to put the guardsmen assigned as supports to work there at night. The decision caused sorrow only to Capt. William Mitchell of the army, the chief instructor, who had carefully planned the most elaborate maneuver of the camp

Many thought the reserves would also he free of problem duty last night, especially when 8 o'clock arrived and departed without a call to the batteries. There was a rumor, however, that the troops would be routed out to repel an attack later, the time suggested being 3 o'clock this morning. Color was added to the rumor when it was learned that the U. Bernard had quietly and separately moved away from Fort Washington. A large number of the men who heard the rumor did not undress. It was also noticed that keen watchers were in the observation

At precisely 11:30 o'clock it was realized that the enemy had been annihilated, and one red bomb announced that the action was over. The guardsmen returned to their tents and the final engagement of the war of 1908 in the artillery district of the Potomac was a matter of history.

Orders Good Care of Property.

Gen. Harries, through his adjutant general, Lieut. Col. Smiley, has given directions that before leaving Fort Washington and Fort Hunt tomorrow all rifles will be thoroughly cleaned and well oiled On arrival at armories in Washington all rifles will be cleaned and well oiled before Company Offices Besieged by Foreigners and Unskilled Laborers Looking for Work.

WINNIPEG. Maniteba, August 8.-Fifty work in the Winnipeg shops of the Canadian Pacific railway. The company has arranged for housing and feeding 1,000 men in the yards. A special policeman on duty at the Winnipeg yards was assaulted by an unknown man with a cordwood stick last night. A number of Winnipeg strikers have been rebuked by their executive officers for publicly fibing at a workman who had refused to join in the strike. They had carried a banner bearing the word "scab" and had followed the man home, making a demonstration

The company has received many applishops and the officers claim the strike will result in nothing more serious than tem-

The men, on the other hand, profess to be confident of success. It is, however, accepted as a fact in business and financial circles that it will be a fight to a work of the strikers. One of the men who walked out Thursday stated that the foremen were placed between two fires. and were simply being forced to quit work. They received an ultimatum from the union warning them of the consequences of their refusing to strike, and the company has insisted that they take positions as foremen over non-union labor at various points along the line, and this they refused to do. Two foremen working under an existing agreement that men earning $125 per naming C. S. Pillsbury, son of the late month could not be forced out are still at Charles A. #### Unskilled Labor Not Wanted.

The offices of the Canadian Pacific rall. way are besieged by foreigners and unskilled laborers looking for work, but they are not the kind of men the company wants. The company is relying principally on a large contingent of British machinists and boilermakers who are expected here at the end of next week to take the places of the strikers. In the meantime a few more men were put at limited, had applied for a receiver. It was work today. All of the foremen were said that the company had suffered from working late into last night. The company is evidently determined to see the fight through and is taking steps to secure men necessary to carry on the shop work. It has received offers of mechanics and men from various agencies. The general opinion at the company's headquarters is that the strike is already practically defeated. It is said that the company will not be too anxious to give employment to the men who have deserted it. Many of those now striking were making as high as $100 a month and even more, while the strike pay amounts to $5 per week for unmarried and $8 for married. Road's Inactivity Alarms Strikers. TORONTO, Ontario, August 8 .- The inactivity of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is causing uneasiness among the strikers. The company is making no haste to fill the vacant places at West Toronto, but the men expect that some attempt may be made by Monday. At an executive meeting of the union last night it was announced that important developments may be expected in a few days, the nature of which the men refuse to divulge. ORDER IN BANKRUPTCY CASE. OF HARRY THAW.

Pittsburg Detective Will Act as His Receiver-Miss Forsythe's Story Denied.

PITTSBURG, August 8.-The order of reference in the bankruptcy case of Harry K. Thaw, sending it to Referee in Bankruptcy W. R. Blair for further proceedings, was made by William T. Lindsay, clerk of the United States district court, today. Referee Blair is now absent from the city, but will return Monday. There was considerable speculation here today how Thaw will be able to visit this city. According to a provision in the bankruptcy laws. Thaw will be required to attend a meeting of his creditors before the referee in this district as a bankrupt. The petition for his discharge from bankruptcy must be made within a year unless additional time be granted. Roger O'Mara, the Pittsburg detective, who last night was appointed receiver for Thaw, will hold a conference some time today with Stone & Stone, local counsel

Harry Thaw's Statement. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., August 8 .-

Harry Thaw made the following statement today in further explanation of the schedules appearing in his petition in bankruptcy filed in Pittsburg yesterday: "The item at the foot of the column giving amounts paid lawyers and alienists for expenses, marked 'cash in bank,' is money in bank that I have now turned over to the receiver in bankruptcy for the equal benefit of all concerned." The sum of $438,500 is represented as having been paid out by Thaw in connection with his trials, but this amount includes $191,500 borrowed on a note from his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, which amount appears again in the schedule of Thaw's liabilities. The sums he has paid and the claims, many of which Thaw says are exaggerated, will total over

Hattie Forsythe Contradicted. When shown on article attributed to Hattie Forsythe, an actress, printed in a newspaper, in which Miss Forsythe was represented as discrediting the story related by Evelyn Thew on the stand Harry Thaw said today: "Miss Forsythe knows-absolutely nothing about the matter. She never met Mr. White and she met Miss Nesbit only once. Whatever knowledge she had was second hand. She was not one of the girls who sailed immediately before the second trial. If she had the knowledge she says she had Mr. Jerome would have had her as & witness. That goes without saying."
